

Switching between Beta and Classic Versions of PolicyStat

On any page that has a new layout version available, a clickable toggle button will be present near the top right corner. Clicking this will switch you to the PolicyStat beta version of the page you were on.

Switching back is as simple as clicking the toggle button again.

As this is a beta version, not all of the pages have been updated to their new look. If your toggle button is greyed-out, then the current page is not yet available in the new layout.
